

The Shawn Long Organizational Science Summer Institute, a component of the interdisciplinary Organizational Science Ph.D. Program at the University of North Carolina at Charlotte, is currently seeking qualified applicants.

Now Accepting Applications for 2022 Summer Fellows
The Shawn Long Organizational Science
Summer Institute (OSSI)
May 15-18, 2022

To be considered for an Institute Fellowship you must:

- Be a rising junior or senior
- Have a minimum 3.0 GPA
- Have an interest in pursuing a graduate degree
- Be willing to commit to three days of intensive research training
- Have an interest in studying topics related to organizations
- Be a member of an underrepresented student population

Institute Fellows will receive:

- Free GRE resources and training
- Intensive seminars on crafting a great graduate application
- Faculty and doctoral student mentors
- Networking with national experts on graduate education
- An invaluable jump start on your graduate application
- Small monetary stipend
- Housing, food, and travel-related expenses covered

*** OSSI will be held in-person this year*****

For more information: visit <https://ossi.charlotte.edu/>
- or - contact Dr. Oscar Jerome Stewart at orgsciencesummer@uncc.edu

